BILL WOULD CUT OFF PRIVATE CONTRIBUTIONS

New Schedule of Corporation
Taxes Approved by Both Houses

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 28.—Senator Caminetti today introduced a bill proposing that the state pay the campaign expenses of candidates for presidential electors, United States senators, congressmen, governor and other state officers, and that the money required be paid to the state chairmen of the various parties. The bill prohibits contributions by persons or corporations to campaign funds.

The Senator plans possibly to follow the bill with another providing for the payment of the campaign expenses of county and municipal candidates.

BOTH HOUSES ADOPT NEW TAX SCHEDULE
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 28.—Without a dissenting vote, both houses of the legislature adopted yesterday the new schedule of rates of taxation on the gross incomes of corporations, from which the state's revenues will be largely derived for the next two years. An attempt in the assembly to substitute another rate schedule as being more equitable, and more nearly the equivalent of what the average citizen pays, met with scant support.

After the war Colonel Jones was for many years editor of the Eclectic Magazine and Appletons Journal. Later he was, in succession, editor of the St. Louis (Mo.) Republican, now the St. Louis Republic; managing editor of the New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and owner and publisher of several trade journals.

Farmers Wanted In Arizona

Big opportunities in Maricopa County, Arizona. Government reports tell of rich soil twelve to sixty feet deep—rich as the Nile.

Farmers who are being crowded out of California on account of high land prices, should visit the great Salt River Valley.

Alfalfa, corn, wheat, vegetables of all kinds, cotton, sugar beets, deciduous and citrus trees, dates, poultry, stock raising and dairying are all profitable. $40.00 per acre is about the average net profit from raising alfalfa. They cut an average of six tons to the acre and this has been selling from $8.00 to $16.00 a ton.

A Swiss who has lived in the Salt River Valley for eight years, and who has been in the dairy business all his life, writes: "I never have seen a country where stock does so well and matures so quickly."

Cheap Land—Abundance of Water

There is an abundance of "stored water" in the great Roosevelt Dam for irrigation purposes. Thousands of acres of land are ready for the plow.

Phoenix, the capital of Arizona, is a winter paradise and is growing rapidly. There are other good towns, such as Mesa, Tempe, Glendale and the new town of Chandler. Good markets. Railroad facilities excellent. Splendid schools and churches.

Low railroad rates from Los Angeles on Wednesdays and Fridays in parties of three or more. Write for forty page book on the resources of Maricopa County and inducements that are offered to settlers. Land prices at present are very reasonable.

'TWILL ALL COME OUT IN THE WASH

Apropos of recommendations from various sources and of divers measures of disagreement, with reference to the compensation of county officers, it may be pouring oil on troubled waters to suggest that the final hearing on the matter will be held before the people during the thirty days recess of the legislature. As to the disagreement between the Grand Jury and the Central Committee, if either has the best of the argument it is safe to assume that that fact will transpire in the full discussion and searching analysis that are inevitable during the time that must elapse between the introduction of the bills and their enactment into law. Likewise if both of these bodies have fallen into error, either of commission or omission, it is almost a certainty that such errors will be discovered and corrected. Thus we have a concrete demonstration of the value of the constitutional amendment adopted at the last election, which provides for a bifurcated legislative session.

A SOUND ORANGE WILL NOT SINK

In an editorial in this paper yesterday Dr. Bondies of South Pasadena was quoted on the deleterious effects of eating frozen oranges. He was also quoted to the effect that an orange that has been frozen will float in water while an orange that has not been frozen will sink.

The doctor's statement as to the deleterious effects of eating frozen oranges is no more reliable than what he says about the way to tell a frozen orange from a sound orange we need not be alarmed. For it is a fact that ALL oranges will float in water, however heavy they may be with rich, sweet juice.

However, the fact that the doctor got off wrong with respect to his test is not good reason for disregarding his advice to beware of the ill-effects of eating frozen oranges. His is not the only testimony to the effect that the eating of frozen oranges makes people sick.

THE COST OF ARSON

It is astonishing into what remote ramifications you can trace the eternal cost-of-living question. Most people, on reading of some business crookedness, smile half tolerantly at the smartness of the man who "gets away with it." They don't realize that it is all footed up in the bill.

So it is with the alleged arson trust, now under investigation in New York City, representing a costly phase of human crookedness found everywhere.

The United States pays annually $500,000,000 in premiums to insurance companies, to cover the cost of fires. The experts say 10 to 15 per cent of these fires are incendiary. So our bill for the smartness of the crooks and the morbid brains of the fire bug is about $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 annually.

After the insurance companies have installed the last fire sprinkler, and insisted on the latest perfection of fire engine and water pressure, there remains a vast twilight zone of moral hazard into which they scarce dare look.

There is more truth than poetry in the lovely story about the precocious youth who was looking over his father's shoulder at his insurance policies.

"Why father," he cried, "don't you see that policy runs out Wednesday?"

"Yes, my child," said Pater, "but the firemen they runs out Tuesday."

A great many men, who never would dream of a criminal act, never get over the lure of the fire engine. They will drop a good dinner or a profitable business deal any time to run to a fire. There is a thrill in the combat between human skill and daring, and the untamed elements of fire and smoke, that stirs any man's blood.

If this battle between man and the forces of nature has this effect on a normal mind, it is not strange that there are so many weak-headed fools who find a consummate ecstasy in the tumult and battle of a fire. There are said to be enough insane "fire bugs" in the city of New York alone to fill an institution.

Inauguration crowds may depend on finding Washington provided with an abundance of safe and helpful traffic regulations.

County Officers' Salaries

You have heard of any of the county offices, from constable up to the highest, remaining vacant because the salary is too small? If you can not find dozens of eager Republicans for each place, you will be able to find a half dozen hungry Democrats, who, regardless of salary, are willing to lay themselves down on the altar of sacrifice for the good of their county. Yet should seven of these fail you, there is still a good reserve of Socialists and Prohibitionists to fall back on.

I believe public servants should be compensated for their services. It was the right move, for instance, to pay the city trustees. I believe of officers' salaries should be adequate and in proportion to the services they give. But as long as there are plenty of men as capable as the present officers, who are willing to take their places at the present salaries, it follows that the public is paying an adequate compensation.

The office of assessor is pointed out as paying only $1700. The present incumbent is a capable man, able to make money in other directions. He finds time aside from his office duties to look after his ranch. His case is, therefore, not like that of the man who gives his whole time exclusively to public office. We have heard no hint that he will resign. There are a hundred hard hit orange growers who are able and willing to be deputy assessors at the present salary, if given a chance.

Show me the lawyer in Santa Ana who would not be willing to take the certainty of $4000 a year for six years in place of the uncertainty of his income from law practice. And very few, if any of them, reach the $4000 mark in successive years, while many, no doubt, range below $3000 or even $2000.

I know of a patent lawyer in Boston handling patent cases like those of the Bell Telephone Co. who was highly elated when he reached the $5000 a year mark.

Before me is a request from an eastern university for an endowment fund, in order to raise the salaries of professors from $2500 to $3000 a year, of assistant professors from $1800 to $2100. These men have spent many years in preparation, generally one or two years abroad. They do not get these positions till they are 25 to 30 years old, as a rule. They are capable, intelligent, giving their whole time to their work. They could generally make a success in other walks of life, business, or public office. Prof. Woodrow Wilson is an example. Many others can be found.

Take ranchers and business men in this county, and though they work industriously and capably, though they have made a money investment, which a county officer does not make, yet many of them have a smaller income, uncertain withal, than is the salary of a county officer. Let us be fair, but not wasteful.

A COLD WIND FROM TULARE
Tulare, Cal., Jan. 25, 1913.

Santa Ana Register—I was much pained to hear of the heavy loss to the citrus crop during the recent freeze in Southern California. It is an irreparable loss, it seems to me, as it will injure the reputation of Southern California as an orange section. The papers in this section are gloating over the fact that your loss is again for the citrus industry in the San Joaquin valley, as the oranges here ripen so much earlier that they are all shipped before cold weather sets in. Is there a difference in the oranges or is it because it is so very much warmer here in spring and summer that they are ripe so much ahead of the Southern California fruit?

We certainly have had as cold weather here as anywhere. It was cold enough so that hydrants and water pipes froze and burst even in houses in town. Of course the mercury didn't go below 22 degrees above—never does ON PAPER—but here at our place it was 9 above and all around at different neighbors' it was 6 above. Yet home-seekers are coming in all the time. One was here wanting to trade his place in Upland for ours—was here in the very coldest time. So I ask, why is it not better to tell the truth at all times?

We have now had rain and if we get more, which we are praying for, we will be all right despite the cold snap, which some old settlers claimed was a sure sign of plenty of rain soon.

As I lived many years in Orange County, there is a very soft spot in my heart and a wish for Southern California's prosperity and uplift.

Yours truly,

A SUBSCRIBER'S WIFE.

PLAY AND EDUCATION

A recent article in the editorial columns of one of the newspapers of Orange County refers to the grammar schools in a city in another country having "abolished the recesses during the rainy season, so that pupils will not go outside the school building and get their feet wet." The editorial goes on to command the wisdom of the policy of looking after the health of the pupils. With this commendation we can all agree, but we can not agree with the wisdom of the school authorities in doing away with the recess periods.

Rainy days are the hardest of all days to keep up the mental and physical vigor, both of teachers and pupils, and they are the days on which relaxation from the mental strain of the recitations and studies is most needed. Instead of abolishing the recess periods on rainy days school boards and principals should have a ruling that on these days when it may be unwise to allow the pupils out on the schoolground it shall be the duty of the teachers to lengthen the recess periods at least fifty per cent and use this period as a time for indoor games which will relax and rest the mind and give the body the exercise it needs and which will set the blood flowing more vigorously and stimulate the mind for better work during the remainder of the day. The windows of the room should be opened to their utmost, pupils clothed more warmly, if necessary, and the entire recess period devoted to stimulating games and vigorous physical exercises.

pounds to relatives and friends in the East or West. These packages were especially prepared, and ready for mailing the first of January. The people sent in the exact amount, and everything was attended to by those in charge of the movement. The express company was not to be left behind. Rates on dried fruit were reduced to compete with the postal service, and this fact marks one of the first good results of the parcels post system.

While here is a good opportunity to advertise our products and our county, we must and can go farther than that. We can as producers come closer to the consumer. It will take time to work this out, but it will surely come. And the associations will be the means of bringing it about. Because, while the individual grower cannot afford singly to advertise his products in the East, the association can do it economically for the mass of growers and handle a mail order business for the growers. This will be one of the changes that will gradually follow the establishment of the parcels post system. It will be one of the means of getting the growers closer together.

Portland, Oregon, reports that its postoffice is swamped by the parcels post business. It will not be long before the same report will come from every postoffice.

Conditions to Fear

Of one thing we may be certain, that our times of sorrow and dismay are but the natural signs that we are mounting fast—we need not fear them! What we have rather to fear are the times when we recline in indolent content.—A. C. Benson.

METHODIST BANQUET

Sunday School Board Entertained Young Peoples Orchestra; Reports Given

The monthly banquet and business meeting of the Sunday School Board of the First Methodist Episcopal Church held last night at 6:30 o'clock in the dining room of the church, was attended by seventy people. The members of the young people's orchestra were guests of the board in appreciation of the successful and really beautiful work it is contributing to the Sunday School under the direction of Prof. Haynes. The orchestra favored the company last night with several numbers.

The banquet was one of the best, and at its completion the business of the evening was taken up. In addition to the gratifying reports of progress and attendance, given by Superintendent McMath, Assistant Superintendents S. M. Davis and superintendents of various departments, some elections were made. Miss Collings was chosen as superintendent of gradings; Chas. F. Hell as superintendent of young people's work to succeed Miss Sarah Gardner who was chosen as teacher of the Senior Baracca at the recent division of the class into two sections, the seniors and juniors. Miss Gertrude Richardson and Mrs. J. S. Spence were named as teachers in the Sunday School and Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Decker as teachers in the home department.

A program has been arranged under the direction of Miss Petro teacher of oral expression, and the mem-

WOMAN'S LEGAL AGE IN BUSINESS IS 18

While the legal age of women so far as suffrage of the ballot is concerned is 21 years, the legal age of consent in business and other transactions still remains at 18 years, says the Los Angeles Tribune.

This was the ruling yesterday of Judge Craig in the superior court in the case of Mrs. V. G. Gruebner against Devere Gustin. The plaintiff endeavored to have set aside a deed to some property which she executed in favor of the defendant about a year ago.

He sustained the defendant's demurrer, which threw the suit out of court.

bers of the High School Girls' Glee Club will render a couple of selections.

Short reports from representatives of the various parent-teachers' associations of Santa Ana will be heard and a general discussion of plans for federation will take place. Mrs. C. C. Noble, chairman of the membership committee of the Mothers' Congress, will be present to assist in the federation organization, and it is expected that some representatives from parent-teachers' associations of other towns in the county may attend.

All who are interested in the welfare of school children are cordially invited to be present at this important meeting.

CONGRESS HONORS SMITH'S MEMORY

Resolutions of Respect and Regret by House of Representatives and Colleagues

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—Resolutions of deep regret and of respect to the memory of Congressman Sylvester Clark Smith, of the Eighth district of California, who died at Hollywood Sunday morning, were yesterday passed by the National House of Representatives, among whose members he was regarded with high esteem during his four terms of office. After the adoption of the resolutions, which also expressed profound sympathy for the widow of the popular California congressman, the house adjourned, though there is much pressing business before the short session of congress.

The death of Congressman Smith was formally announced to the house by the late representative's colleague, Congressman Needham. Despite the great distance of Los Angeles from Washington and the pressing business of the session, many friends of Congressman Smith favored sending an official committee from the house of representatives to the funeral. This request, however, was not heeded, as Congressman Needham stated that, before Congressman Smith left Washington, he had expressed a wish that the custom of sending committees to attend funerals be dispensed with in the event of his death.

The California members of the house met yesterday and adopted the following message of condolence, which was telegraphed to the widow of the dead congressman:

"We, the colleagues of Sylvester C. Smith, out of our close association with him in the house of representatives, would testify to our respect, our admiration and our affection for the man so recently among us. As a singularly able and patriotic citizen of California and of the nation, he rendered distinguished service during eight years in the state senate and during an equal period in this house. We join in sympathy to those near and dear to him, trusting that an appreciation of his character and services, may alleviate in some measure their sense of personal loss."

The resolution is signed by J. C. Needham, J. R. Knowland, Julius Kahn, Evers A. Hays, William Kent, John E. Raker and William D. Stephens.

SACRAMENTO VALLEY EXHIBIT PROMISED

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 28.—Another fine exhibit for the San Diego exposition in 1915 is assured, this being the display of the counties of the Sacramento Valley. The visit of exposition commissioners and supervisors from that section to San Diego resulted in enthusiastic approval of the San Diego enterprise and the prospect of a big building and outdoor display from that section.

Few delegations having visited San Diego on exposition matters have enjoyed more thoroughly the time spent here than did the Sacramento party. The visitors were taken to Point Loma, and there saw a birdman from a government airship training grounds on North Island soaring overhead. They visited Ramona's Marriage Place, and heard the story of the old missions of Southern California. The ladies of the party were taken to Grossmont for luncheon, and the entire time of the two days' visit to San Diego was employed in study of the city and the plans for the exposition.

One of the best sites on the exposition grounds was selected for the exhibit of the Sacramento Valley. This adjoins that of the Southern California counties, and is located on the main street of the exposition, directly abutting upon the magnificent drive across the mammoth bridge spanning the Canyon de Cabrillo. The location is directly east of the main group of exhibit buildings.

A feature of the visit of the Sacramento party here was the contribution by its members of a purse of $241 for the family of Fred Gillies, the engineer killed in the wreck of the special train carrying the party to San Diego. The exposition raised this to a total of $500, and the money was immediately forwarded to the family of the dead engineer, at San Bernardino.

The determination to provide a Sacramento Valley exhibit at San Diego was reached at an executive session of the supervisors and commissioners. The exposition division of works was instructed to prepare at once plans for an exhibit building.

The members of the visiting party were: Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Lindley, Newton Cleveland, W. D. Spencer, O. H. Miller, Gen. J. G. Martine, of Sacramento; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Schutz, Colusa; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McKinley, Forest Hill; H. C. Flourney, H. G. Dorick, D. Ramell, C. W. Wendell, and H. J. Irrelav, of Quincy; E. Franklin and C. A. Geisendorfer, Colfax; W. J. MOTORCYCLE RIDER IS HURT IN FALL

Orange News: Elmer Yordy was thrown from his motorcycle at Corona yesterday and received injuries which will lay him up for some time. He was brought home on the train today, one ankle severely hurt, after being kept in a Corona hotel over night.

Yordy's accident took place on a sharp turn in the road. While attempting the corner at high speed without shutting off, his motorcycle skidded under him and rider and machine piled into a heap.

Full details of the mishap or the extent of the damage were not received here. Floyd W. Parsons, local Harley Davidson agent, went to Corona this morning to send Yordy down by train and bring home his machine.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Creamery extras butter advanced

2 cents and eggs were easier yesterday, as predicted in The Times Sunday. A salient cause for the butter advance was the higher price in San Francisco. Large quantities are shipped in from the northern part of the San Joaquin Valley, which causes the market locally to move in sympathy with that in the North. Receipts were rather light yesterday. The market will probably continue firm at the present price for a few days and a further advance of any moment is not expected.

Egg receipts were large, and there may be a further decline. This depends largely on the course which the San Francisco market takes during the next few days. Petaluma fresh eggs were easier.

The cheese market was firm, and a show of strength in some varieties is not unlikely. However, if there should be an advance it will probably be only a slight one.

Australian brown and yellow Danvers onions were reported easier by some dealers. A limited quantity of silverskins is on. They bring about $3 a box. Potatoes showed no important change. Beans were about the same prices.

A limited supply of avocados is on the market. Apples of all varieties were in evidence. There was no particular change in the citrus market. Large quantities of citrus fruits were on display.

Twenty cases of local ranch eggs were sold at 31 cents at the Produce Exchange.

Santa Ana Painless Dentists, 102½ East Fourth St. Main 253.

CAUSED ONE SHOW CHANGE

The campaign started by the city trustees to make the moving picture houses of the city less like fire-traps has brought one result. It has caused the closing of the Bell Theater, and the opening of the Temple. The Bell Theater is one of the places severely criticised by the trustees last Thursday. Manager Roberts closed the place and is now conducting his shows at the Temple, which is made of concrete and has ample exits.

The criticism of the Czarske building on Sycamore street did not have any effect so far as widening the entrances is concerned. When four trustees were at the place Thursday afternoon it was stated by the trustees that the doors should be widened to about double their present width. The theater is to open without the changes designated being made. The interior changes were made as proposed by the theater.

Under the instructions of the trustees the proprietors of the show-houses are supposed to come before the trustees next Monday with plans for remodeling their places so that adequate exits may be supplied.

Arizona's Electoral Messenger Located in New York After Frantic Search

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—After being reported as missing, W. T. Webb, official messenger to carry Arizona's electoral vote to Washington, was located today in New York. The records will be delivered tonight. The law requires that the vote must be delivered before January 27, but it is thought Arizona's vote will be counted regardless of the delay.

The Arizona congressional delegation kept the wires hot from yesterday noon until today when they located Webb. Senator Ashurst prevailed upon the senate leaders not to enforce the penalty of loss of mileage on Webb because of his failure to appear.

Horses and Music
The Swiss horse is apparently a very musical animal—or not, according to the hearer's ear. Strings of bells are hung around their necks, producing a musical jangle at every step. Some of the horses with the most bells, I noticed, were the thinnest—apparently they went without food to buy bells. A horse like that ought to be restrained.
